

Flat Stanley's Adventure

It was an extra special day at school, there was going to be a special visitor. Stanley had been told to be on his best behaviour as Mr and Mrs Lambchop had found Stanley scaring his brother by sneaking under the door. Stanley saw the van arrive and desperately wanted to know what they were getting out, but his class were not going into the hall until after lunch. "Stanley?" asked his teacher. "Do you know the answer?"

Stanley had not been listening, he had been too busy staring out of the window. "no, sorry."

Stanley needed to come up with a plan...