

Set 16

Practise sentences

There was a bad car accident on the motorway.

Mum accidentally knocked the cup of coffee over.

When was the last time they had an actual conversation?

So the party was actually for him, not for both of them.

He probably did not realise what he had said.

Occasionally, the monkey climbed the tree and shook the branches.

Jack wanted to continue the story until it was finished.

Which fruit has seeds on the outside?

Can you build a Lego tower using only red bricks?

You can't imagine how sore my knee is after my fall.

Set 16

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

accident

accidentally actual actually probably occasionally

continue fruit

build

imagine

Set 17

Practise sentences

Did I mention that I love chocolate?

She was excited to see her friend dressed up for the occasion.

What position do you like to play in the game of rugby?

My gold bracelet is my most treasured possession.

Do you know the answer to the Maths question?

He had a great knowledge, mostly from reading many books.

The teacher was very knowledgeable in each subject.

Is it possible that there is more than one way to solve the puzzle?

If the car goes faster, there is an increase in its speed.

It is important to remember why we have our Golden Rules.

Set 17

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

mention

occasion

position

possession

question

knowledge knowledgeable possible

increase

important

Set 18

Practise sentences

Do you possess the golden ring that only fits the King?

I have eight pairs of shoes in my wardrobe

My sister was eighth in line as we waited for lunch.

The weight of the stone was heavier than that of the brick.

The height of the tower is greater than the height of the church.

The reign of Queen Victoria lasted for 64 years.

Do you have the answer to the question I asked earlier?

When it is a cold day, I can see my breath as I exhale.

When you breathe in your lungs inflate.

The guard at the gate did not smile at anyone who walked by.

Set 18

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

possess

eight eighth weight

height

reign

answer

breath

breathe

guard

Set 19

Practise sentences

Do you know what lies at the centre of the earth?

If a cricketer scores 100 runs,
he scores a century.

I am certain that I left my keys
on the table.

There are 360 degrees in a circle.

It is important to exercise
every day to keep your mind and body healthy.

Fred has a lot of experience in these matters.

If you take medicine, it usually makes you feel better.

I notice that you have forgotten to read this week.

The recent picture showed the children enjoying themselves.

How many times can you write your name in one minute?

Set 19

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

centre

century

certain

circle

exercise

experience

medicine

notice

recent minute

Set 20

Practise sentences

The ball girl caught the tennis ball as it flew over her head.

My cat is very naughty because he scratches the sofa!

I like to get up early in the morning so that I can enjoy the day.

The earth was very dry because it had not rained for more than one week.

The group of penguins waddled across the ice.

She stepped forward and gave him a huge hug.

The boat rocked backwards and forwards on the stormy seas.

The experiment had a successful and predicted outcome.

What era of History would you like to visit?

It is important to learn so that we can improve.

Set 20

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

caught

naughty

early earth

group forward

forwards

experiment

history

learn

Set 21

Practise sentences

I have lived at this address since I was 3 years old.

You always appear when I am about to start cooking tea.

As I looked up, I saw the clouds slowly disappear.

My eyes are a different colour from my sister's.

I find Maths difficult sometimes.

The grammar school in the village was founded more than 100 years ago.

My Nan lives opposite my sister.

When you cut your knee, put pressure on it to stop the bleeding.

I don't suppose that you would agree with me on that.

What time do you expect the coach to arrive at school?

Set 21

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

address

appear

disappear

different difficult

grammar

opposite

pressure

suppose arrive

Set 22

Practise sentences

It is time to decide what you will be wearing to the party.

Please can you describe exactly what the man looked like.

My friend enjoys the extreme sport of snowboarding.

I am struggling to guide the boat because it is so foggy.

We are going to surprise Dad with a special cake for his birthday.

It is important to complete the form before sending it off.

I would love to live on a desert island.

Which material is best to use when making an umbrella?

You need to use a metre stick to measure the length of the table.

I promise to keep my bedroom tidy at all times.

Set 22

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

decide describe extreme guide

surprise

complete

island

material

length

promise

Set 23

Practise sentences

The children have not yet visited the museum therefore I am unsure if they will enjoy it.

Did you know that I have a very famous uncle?

I like to eat various sweets from the sweet shop.

Mum heard a scream from the garden because Suzy had fallen over.

My heart was beating so fast at the end of the sprint race.

I think you have eaten enough cake now.

The phone woke me up, even though it was not very loud.

Although she was far away, she could still hear the people chatting.

I thought purple was the colour of your teddy bear.

As she walked through the forest, it became quieter and darker.

Set 23

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

therefore famous various heard

heart

enough

though although thought through

Set 24

Practise sentences

What is your favourite flavour of ice cream?

My mum's birthday is in February.

The dog didn't show any interest in the meaty bone.

When I visit the library, I like to spend time reading books.

There was nothing ordinary about the girl who lived in our street.

Auntie had to keep the cats separate from one another otherwise they might fight.

I enjoy riding my bicycle.

If Dad doesn't keep busy, he gets bored very quickly.

It was none of her business and she didn't want to hurt my feelings.

I enjoy eating roast potatoes with my Sunday dinner.

Set 24

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

favourite

February

interest

library

ordinary separate bicycle busy

business

potatoes

Set 25

Practise sentences

I write important events onto my wall calendar at home.

There was a peculiar sound coming from the hallway yesterday.

I would like you to consider as many options as possible.

The lion at the zoo enjoyed sleeping in one particular spot.

Do you remember when we went to the beach on that hot day in June?

She was surprised to see such a popular café quite empty.

My uncle Ian is a regular customer at the pet shop.

Freddie has a natural ability when it comes to playing football.

If you gave me a quarter of the amount, how much would be left?

Perhaps it was a foolish thing to do.

Set 25

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

calendar

peculiar consider particular remember popular regular natural quarter

perhaps

Set 26

Practise sentences

I often visit my Nan and Grandad to have tea and cake.

What was the purpose of coming over to my house?

It is important to punctuate your sentence correctly.

Pandora had a special gift in her box, given to her by Zeus.

If you drive in a straight line, you will reach your destination.

I was met with a strange sight when I came into school today.

You will need to keep your strength up so that you can finish the challenge.

The woman wore a red coat with matching hat and scarf.

How many women did you see on the train today?

Set 26

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

often

purpose

sentence

special straight

strange

strength

woman

women