

Set 27

Practise sentences

Nobody was available to speak to the customer about the problem with his television.

I enjoy eating a spicy vegetable curry on a Friday night.

What type of vehicle is the most suitable for travelling on the motorway?

The heart, which is a large muscle in the body, constantly pumps blood through our veins.

If I win the lottery, I am going to buy a luxurious yacht so that I can sail the seas.

The detective conducted a thorough investigation into the crime that was committed.

His fine character and conscience earned him respect from many of his peers.

I am determined to make a conscious effort to work harder to pass my exams.

Desperate times call for desperate measures.

The amateur boxer won his fight.

Set 27

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

available

vegetable vehicle

muscle

yacht thorough conscience

conscious

desperate amateur

Set 28

Practise sentences

The competition was incredibly exciting because it was so close.

Can you give me a clear explanation as to why this has happened?

My friend wanted to pursue a profession in law.

His pronunciation of my name indicated a Welsh accent.

The average speed travelled by my car is 35 miles per hour.

There was considerable controversy that could not be resolved.

When you buy that computer, I guarantee that you will be completely satisfied.

What was the identity of the person who stole the money from the shop?

I am going to bake individual chicken pies for dinner tonight.

Please do not interfere with my work, or I will lose concentration.

Set 28

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

competition

explanation

profession

pronunciation

average controversy

guarantee identity

individual interfere

Set 29

Practise sentences

The hurricane had a disastrous effect on the town and its residents.

Anthony painted a marvellous landscape picture that included intricate detail.

Those twins that live next door are rather mischievous.

What do you want to achieve by the end of the year?

Mum had to have an awkward conversation with me about my behaviour.

I love visiting the shops to find a bargain.

Please do not interrupt me when I am speaking.

If you could choose a language to learn, which one would it be?

Can I persuade you to try it one more time?

The queue at the theatre was so long that it went along the street and around the corner!

Set 29

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

disastrous marvellous

mischievous

achieve awkward bargain

interrupt

language

persuade queue

Set 30

Practise sentences

Your physical wellbeing is as important as your mental wellbeing.

What do you think the symbol above the fireplace means?

There was a glitch in the security system so the alarm was triggered.

The Scientists worked hard to develop new medicines at the laboratory.

I don't why, but your face looks very familiar.

When visiting a foreign country, it is fun to embrace the culture and way of life.

Debra waited a moment, then her curiosity got the better of her.

Is forty a multiple of eight, five or six?

The lightning shot across the sky and I had never seen such a spectacular sight!

I have practised my signature so many times that my hand hurts!

Set 30

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

physical symbol system

develop familiar foreign curiosity

forty lightning

signature

Set 31

Practise sentences

Some people find visiting a cemetery very interesting.

I enjoy the convenience of living near to school and to Ewell village.

If you are going to criticise my artwork, please make it constructive.

You demonstrate excellent ability when playing cricket.

The existence of aliens is something people are still fascinated by.

Curbs and stairs are a hindrance to people who use wheelchairs.

Is it necessary for you to wear your hat and scarf today?

The police did not want to prejudice the investigation.

I admire the effort you put into it and the sacrifice you made.

What would a country be like without any form of government?

Set 31

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

cemetery

convenience

criticise

excellent existence

hindrance

necessary

prejudice

sacrifice

government

Set 32

Practise sentences

The ancient ruins can give us many clues as to what life was like.

Do you have sufficient funds in your account to pay the bill?

Looking after our environment is one of the most important things we can do.

The Houses of Parliament are located in London near to Big Ben.

I enjoy eating out at a restaurant with my friends and family.

It is important to equip yourself with the correct tools to complete the job.

The soldier was well equipped to engage in battle.

What equipment do you need to conduct that science investigation?

Do you recognise anybody in the room?

The lady needs to give me all the relevant information that I need.

Set 32

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

ancient sufficient

environment

parliament

restaurant

equip

equipped equipment

recognise relevant

Set 33

Practise sentences

It became apparent that the children did not enjoy making the cakes at all.

I truly appreciate all the help you have given me this week.

I would like to suggest that we visit the museum as a group.

Can you recommend a good film to watch tonight?

Did it ever occur to you that you should have asked me before you did it?

I like to occupy my time by completing jigsaw puzzles.

Dad would love the opportunity to visit his favourite football club.

Please find attached all the documents you need before you leave.

What is your favourite television programme?

As I walked past her, I bumped my shoulder on the door frame.

Set 33

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

apparent appreciate suggest recommend occur

occupy opportunity attached programme

shoulder

Set 34

Practise sentences

The committee consists of ten people and they all help to make decisions.

It is important to communicate clearly so that you can be understood more easily.

Ewell Grove is an important part of the community of Ewell Village.

In some countries the role of President corresponds to that of the Prime minister.

How many people are you able to accommodate at your hotel this summer?

Mum likes to accompany me when I walk the dog on the Downs.

According to the invitation, the party will be held in the Church hall.

Ellen knew the dog was aggressive, because it barked loudly and snarled at her.

The leisure centre near to my home has just been rebuilt.

My neighbour enjoys cooking on the barbecue and chatting to me.

Set 34

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

committee

communicate

community

correspond accommodate accompany according aggressive

leisure

neighbour

Set 35

Practise sentences

After falling down the stairs, a purple bruise started to appear on my hip.

All gymnasts competing in the same category, will sit together.

The secretary typed more than 10,000 letters during her career.

It was a privilege to meet the Queen at Buckingham Palace.

I know it's a nuisance for you to carry it, but it is very helpful to me.

Please do not exaggerate the result or it will be inaccurate.

My older sister likes to embarrass me by doing a silly dance in front of my friends.

Using a dictionary can help me to find definitions of new words.

There is a definite problem that we must try to solve.

My little brother likes to harass me when I'm doing my homework,

Set 35

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

bruise

category

secretary

privilege

nuisance

exaggerate

embarrass dictionary definite harass

Set 36

Practise sentences

Greg was determined to finish the task so that he could go home.

The new building at the university has been built especially for research.

The ginger cat is a frequent visitor to my back door.

Mum frequently takes me to have my hair cut because it grows so quickly.

It is vital that we take immediate action to stop this from happening again.

Dad asked me to come home immediately so that we could have an important discussion.

Is it necessary for you to bring two suitcases on holiday?

It is unnecessary to own a car in the city, because you travel on the bus or train.

The gentleman showed a sincere interest in the arts and crafts fair.

Set 36

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

determined especially frequent frequently immediate immediately

necessary

unnecessary sincere

Set 37

Practise sentences

What was your favourite nursery rhyme when you were younger?

As they walked along, the rhythm of their step was identical.

What is the temperature today?

The soldier carried 30kg on his back and climbed a very steep hill.

My stomach is full after that delicious dinner.

On the twelfth day of August, my friend will celebrate her birthday.

Mum always buys the variety pack of crisps from the supermarket.

Set 37

These are the statutory words I am currently learning to read rapidly and spell accurately.

rhyme

rhythm

temperature

soldier

stomach

twelfth

variety